Wanted, a wholesale and retail commission store. With the immense import and export retail trade on Mani, it is certainly somewhat singular that some enterprising man has not already seen and seized the opportunity offered for this line and business. of Walluku, for the sum of $3,010 There is a steady and increasing demand for goods which are not per year. generally, and in some cases not at all, handled by Maui merchan's, and this is the field to be occupied. Again, no one has made an organized and intelligent effort to handle the exports of Maur along the lines of garden and farm produce. This field cannot in the nature of things remain idle much longer, and while it will make money for the right man, it will also stimulate the production of a great deal of home produce as soon as a market is brought to the door of the small farmer.

Are Hawailan children being educated in the right direction? Formerly they were an industrious race, but the young Hawaiian of today, educated in the public schools of the Islands, cm sit in the shade and twang his ukulele while the old father digs taro and pounds poi, with the same sang froid which marks some of his young American brothers who have been educated out of the idea of good, honest, hard work. Frankly, there should be no schools will be held at Honelulu, although on the islands except such as teach the mechanical arts as well as Hilo had raised $1000 to defray exthe three R's. Tourist travel for the winter will soon be visiting Mani, and of Preparatory School will not open till course will visit Iao Valley. No time should be lost in putting the Sept. 17. government road up the valley in order. Its present condition is a most eloquent plea for improvement. With a steam rock crusher and prison labor available, it is sincerely to be hoped that the road board can see its way clear to go to work at it. If nothing more can be done, at least the brush should be cut from the sides of the road so that they will not whip out the eyes of those driving up the valley. In several places, the water from the plantation flume runs down the road for fifty yards, before finding egress. Repairs and improvement are imperatively demanded.

It should be impressed upon the gentlemen who hope to represent Maui in the next legislature, that there is a very important piece of road about fifteen miles long which should be built at once fight for local government in earnest, and which would complete the circuit of carriage travel around west Maui. The road referred to is to be built from Waihee to Honokohau. This road, besides giving the people on the north end of the island an outlet to the Wailuku and Kahului markets, would open up about 6000 acres of des irable government land which cannot now be sold because there is no way to get to or from this Coast, and William Weir, former will diligently inquire, and true preland. The need is too clear and plain for argument. What say you, first officer, has been promoted to sentment make, of all such matters THE BOARD OF REGISTRATION

There is rich and abundant promise in store for the future of the individual Hawaiian, under the fostering influence of Americanism in its highest and most generous sense. It is not to be expected that the present generation will realize this promise, but Islands. Calls for a primary and a their children and their children's children, springing from a race so full of natural art, feeling and mechanical skill, will develop into a race of poets, musicians and mechanics. The average Hawaiian today is as a general rule agentleman at heart, and when veneered with the average amount of civilization that Americanism will be stow upon him, he will be an honor to his race and to his country.
